

Blooming Rose

children's book series

Is your campus ready to BLAST OFF?!

Texas children's book author Lauren Piland would love the chance to visit your campus to engage students with a read-aloud of our premiere title, "Blooming Rose Blasts Off!"

Find out if Rose and her best friend Brady give up on a challenging rocket launcher project, or learn how to SOAR!

About the Author

As a former elementary teacher, I had started noticing the gap in the emotional support and role modeling for young students at home, and its reflection on their wellbeing once at school. This was the main inspiration behind my Blooming Rose series, which features real life experiences and healthy coping strategies in each engaging and relatable story. My latest venture is The Blooming Books Podcast, which chats with special guests each episode as we dive into a different seL topic with our top kid lit picks to go along with. I hope this series and podcast can spark meaningful discussions in both homes and classrooms.

About the Academic Bundles

Wanting the engagement and connections to continue long after the story is over, we created Beyond the Text Bundles for each title in appropriate grade levels for Pk/K, 1st/2nd or 3rd/4th options, each including ten academic-based exercises in:

reading comprehension | vocabulary building | word mechanics
writing prompt | STEM activity | whole group or take home project
character building | creative writing + design

"Very well done! I think the activity pages and conversation starters are PRICELESS." 30 yr veteran elementary teacher

"My son really enjoyed you coming and reading to the 2nd graders and was excited to show us the book when he got home. Reading has been a struggle so this is HUGE!"
2nd grade parent

for contact

BloomingRoseKids.com
lauren@BloomingRoseKids.com

Blooming Rose

children's book series

About our Author Visits

The components of our author visits are tailored to each campus, and can be virtual or in person if local to Houston. Read alouds can be hard cover story time or digital presentations.

Some visit ideas include:

Blooming Read

author read aloud & book signing event typical at schools, libraries, after school programs, summer camps, children's hospitals & kids' events 20 min, ideal for ages 4-9

Blooming Social

author read aloud & book signing PLUS a rocket themed activity; typical at schools, libraries, after school programs, summer camps, children's hospitals & kids' events
30 min, ideal for ages 4-9

Blooming Lunch Bunch

schedules permitting, we can arrange a special lunch time social with the author for a group of 4-6 students either in the cafeteria, library, classroom or campus location of your choice.
25 min, ideal for ages 5-9

Blooming Talks

presentation time with the author for an engaging conversation on a topic of choice listed below, question and answer session, and interactive activity:

- Creative Careers: Publishing

a walk through the process as authors, illustrators, editors, publishers, graphic designers, and marketing execs

- Elements of Writing a Short Story

an interactive guide through the fictional writing process

25-45 min, can be tailored for upper elementary through junior high school

How to Book

Email lauren@bloomingrosekids.com to tailor the perfect visit for your campus!

School visits are at no charge, but I appreciate the opportunity to send home an order form to staff & students 1 week prior to our visit for those interested in a custom-signed copy.

Any campus that accounts for 10+ orders will receive a signed copy for their library!

for contact

BloomingRoseKids.com
lauren@BloomingRoseKids.com

